POSITIONS OF GERMANS TAKEN BY THE FRENCH

Troops Repulse a Counter Attack in Region of Vaux.

NUMBER OF PRISONERS WERE CAPTURED DURING OPERATION

Allies Preparing for a Renewal of the German Offensive.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, July 3.—French troops last night attacked the German positions along a front of three kilometers north of Moulin-Sous-Touvent and improved their positions.

West of Chateau-Thierry, on the Marne front a German counter-attack in the region of Vaux was checked by the French fire. Other German attempts to advance north of Moncel and in upper Alsace were without result.

In the attack on the Moulin-Sous-Touvent front the French troops penetrated the German positions to a depth of 800 meters. So far the number of Germans taken prisoner in this operation has reached 220.

The official statement says: "Between the Oise and the Aisne we executed a local operation north of Moulin-Sous-Touvent. Our troops captured German positions on a front of three kilometers and attained a depth of 800 meters. The number of prisoners at present numbers 220."

ON AISNE SECTOR.
(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)
Last night on the French front was marked by neither the shrewd, incisive operations by which the allies are from day to day improving their positions in anticipation of the renewal of the German offensive.

General Petain's troops on this occasion drove in on a two mile front near Moulin-Sous-Touvent, between Oise and the Aisne, and penetrated the German lines to a depth of approximately half a mile. They took 220 prisoners in their advance.

The British front on the other hand witnessed a minor reverse for Field Marshal Haig's gallant fighters who were obliged to relinquish a large part of the ground they had gained Sunday night in a local operation near Bouzincourt north of Albert.

The French success in the Moulin-Sous-Touvent operation was the shrewdest almost at the base of the German salient which projects to the Marne along the front to the west of Soissons and on through the American sector northwest of Chateau-Thierry. The American troops on the Marne front are holding on firmly to their gains in the Vaux region. The French official communiqué today reports the checking of a German counter-attack in this area. The official and unofficial reports agree that no impressions has been made by the Germans upon the ground gained by the allies in the recent fighting here.

Allied troops continue to harass the Germans and have made further important gains in anticipation of the renewal of the enemy offensives. American and French troops are meeting with success in pushing forward their lines in the important section of front between the Aisne and the Marne rivers.

Two villages and more than 500 prisoners have been taken by the Franco-American soldiers. Strong German counter-attacks have been repulsed and the allied troops hold firmly to the ground gained.

After the capture of the Aisne and adjacent points, the Americans withstood violent enemy reactions but the German efforts were of no avail, the attacking force being virtually wiped out. Further attempts probably will be made to regain Vaux which is an important point on the battle front between Soissons and Chateau-Thierry, the nearest the Germans have approached to Paris.

Meanwhile the American artillery is bombarding heavily the German positions on hill 204 east of Vaux. American aviators aiding the infantry and artillery and in a combat Tuesday between nine American and nine German machines, three of the enemy were brought down. Two American airplanes failed to return from this fight and a third from another combat.

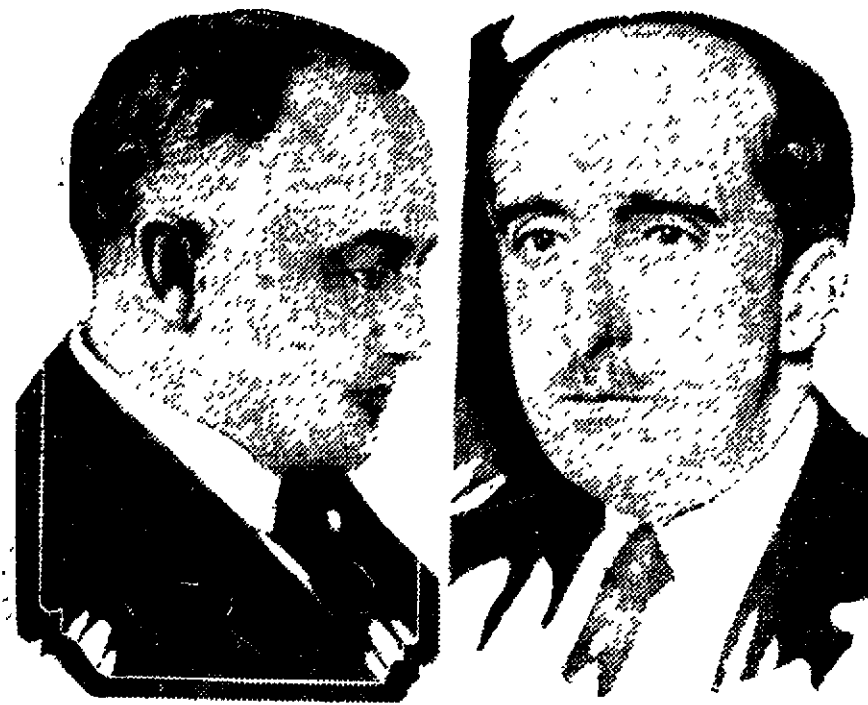

For a week now the French have been driving the Germans out of positions between the Aisne and Villers-Cotterets. The latest gain was the village of St. Pierre Aigle, immediately north of the forest of Villers-Cotterets.

On the British front only artillery have been active. British aviators continue to be most busy. Forty two German airplanes and three balloons were counted for in actions Monday while much bombing reconnaissance and photography work was accomplished. Marching, Coblenz, Treves and Thornville, all in Germany, have been attacked by British squadrons.

The one millionth American soldier has arrived in France. President Wilson has announced that the American forces in France on July 1 aggregate 1,019,115. Of this number more than 500,000 went overseas in May and June.

Containing the local attack on the mountain, the allies have gained ground on the northwestern part of Monte Grappa, between the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6.)

MEAT IS HIGH; SO ARE DIVIDENDS THESE RICH CHICAGO PACKERS REAP

Uncle Sam thinks he has found one of the causes of the tremendously high cost of meat. It is in the immense profits reaped by the packers. According to the federal trade commission, in 1916 Ogden Armour's company made so much money that it was able to give its stockholders $80,000,000 in additional stock, raising the capitalization from $20,000,000 to $100,000,000. In that same year the Armour company was able to pay dividends of 14.6 per cent. In 1917 the Armour company paid a dividend of 27.1 per cent on the vastly increased capital stock. Louis F. Swift's company also capitalized what the commission calls "surplus accumulated from excessive profits," and in 1917 paid a dividend of 47.2 per cent.

MOTHERS, WIVES, DAUGHTERS, SISTERS, SWEETHEARTS.

It is urgently requested by Mayor Atherton that all mothers, wives, daughters, sisters and sweethearts of soldiers now in the service, or who have enlisted, join the big patriotic parade in this city tomorrow and that they carry service flags in honor of their loved ones. Places of honor will be assigned them and their comfort will be looked after when the parade shall have been finished. It is your day and all Newark will be proud to see you in the parade.

GEN. PERSHING DECORATES MEN AFTER REVIEW

With the American Army in France, Tuesday, July 2.—Returning from a raid in the Montdidier sector, Lieutenant Christian R. Holmes today found General Pershing waiting to decorate personally himself and six others with the distinguished service cross. The ceremony was held well within the range of the guns and the medals were pinned on the soldiers after review under hot summer skies.

Lieutenant Holmes, who also has received the French war cross for bravery, had participated in a raid and when he got back to the American lines learned that his latest decoration had arrived in the hands of General Pershing. In order not to miss the honor of receiving the medal from the commander-in-chief, he hurried to the review, blood-spattered and grimy.

The other recipients, all of whom were awarded the medal for gallantry in action, were Sergeants Patrick Walsh, James A. Murphy and William Norton, Corporals Ernest Birch and Henry J. Mongeau and Private Edward V. Armstrong. The deeds for which they were given the distinguished service cross have been recorded previously.

General Pershing gave to the commanding general distinguished service crosses for Corporals A. N. Quick, Louis Liberman and Reford S. Dettro. Corporals Quick and Liberman exhibited bravery in rescuing two wounded comrades exposed to enemy shell-fire. Corporal Dettro now is attending a school for officers.

The distinguished service cross has been awarded to 22 soldiers of the American expeditionary force by General Pershing. The medals are given for gallantry in action at Cantigny, around Chateau-Thierry and in Lorraine. The recipients are seven officers, two post-humous, nine non-commissioned officers, one post-humous and six privates, three post-humous. Their names are:

Captain Dwight F. Smith, marines; Lieutenant Alfred S. Noble, marines; Lieutenant Charles G. Roberts, marines; Second Lieutenant Louis A. Tammernann, marines; and Second Lieutenant Ralph Marshall, marines. Corporal Reford Dettro, field artillery; Corporal A. N. Quick, field artillery; Corporal Louis Liberman, field artillery; Corporal Raymond Gibson, marines; Corporal Charles W. Brooks, marines; Sergeant John Groof, marines; Sergeant Darel McKinnin, marines; Sergeant George T. Frank, marines.

Private Hugh S. Miller, John W. Woore and Leo D. Huffstater, all of them marines.

Those decorated post-humously are: Second Lieutenant Alton Wood, infantry; Second Lieutenant Welborn S. Priddy, infantry; Sergeant Theron Dairymple, engineers; Private Clinton S. Lindsey, marines; Private John S. Walters, infantry; Private Frank P. Vallely, field artillery.

SEN. BENJ. TILLMAN DIED EARLY TODAY AT WASHINGTON

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, July 3.—United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, a veteran of 24 years' service in congress, and chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, died at his home here early today as the result of a cerebral hemorrhage suffered last Thursday. The stroke completely paralyzed the left side and as the right side had been partly paralyzed since a similar attack 10 years ago, no hope had been held for Senator Tillman's recovery since he lapsed into unconsciousness last Sunday.

To honor the passing of one of the most picturesque figures in congress and southern public life, both bodies of congress planned to adjourn today and appoint committees to accompany the body to the Tillman home at Trenton, S. C.

As governor of South Carolina, as a leader in the southern wing of the Democratic party, and as an active participant in the last generation's growth of the American navy, Senator Tillman had been prominently before the public for many years. Senator Swanson of Virginia, probably will be his successor as head of the naval committee, to which Senator Tillman had devoted almost his exclusive interest in congressional legislation for many years. He had been its chairman since 1913, and was one of the most ardent "big navy" advocates, being among the first to urge extension of submarine construction and government manufacture of armorplate.

Senator Tillman's death promises an upheaval in South Carolina politics, in which he has been a leader for more than a generation. He died in the heat of the senatorial primary campaign in which his long-time political opponent, former Governor Cole M. Blease, was contesting for nomination to the senate.

NEWARK'S NEXT QUOTA 54 MEN; COUNTY'S IS 56

Newark's quota for the call of July 22, when 5000 men will be sent to Camp Sherman and 7200 to Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., has been announced by the state draft board as 54. The county quota will be 66 or a total from city and county of 120.

After these men leave there will be but few names left in class 1. To fill the next call those obtained by reclassification and the new registrants will probably be drafted.

Under call 754, the Local Draft Board will send two men to Akron on July 15th, for training. They will leave on the B. & O. at 10:45 a. m.

COLUMBUS BAKERS PUNISHED.

CONGRESS MAY NOT RECESS AS WAS PROPOSED

Necessary Legislation May Force Law Makers to Remain Over.

TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE
MEASURE TO BE ACTED UPON

Big Appropriation Bill Carrying $12,000,000,000
Must Be Settled.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, July 3.—The resolution authorizing the president to take over telegraph and telephone lines, the $12,000,000 army appropriation bill, the proposal to increase the government guaranteed price for wheat to $2.50 a bushel, and war-time prohibition today stood in the way of the proposed recess of congress this week. Leaders in both the senate and house were not hopeful that this legislation could be disposed of in time to recess Saturday until August 10, while the new revenue bill is being drafted by the house ways and means committee. In the opinion of Speaker Clark, recess plans "had gone gumming."

Some members, however, had not given up hope today of being able to leave Washington this week. To provide funds for the army, agriculture department and other government agencies, the appropriation bills of which have been held up, the senate today planned to consider a blanket resolution passed by the house yesterday continuing as an emergency last year's appropriations.

Agreement on the amendment increasing the guaranteed price of wheat to $2.50, appeared likely after weeks of discussion in conference. It was intimated that house managers would agree to a compromise on the price in view of the overwhelming vote in the senate against lowering the wheat guarantee. It was generally believed that war-time prohibition would go over until after the recess in view of the inability of prohibition leaders in the senate to get the amendment up for consideration yesterday.

Hearings on the new revenue bill by the house ways and means committee were scheduled to close today. Work of drafting the measure will be started immediately, it was said.

URGENT CALL FOR STUDENT NURSES SENT OUT TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, July 3.—With the nation's reserve of trained nurses depleted through the calling of thousands of nurses for service in military and naval hospitals, both abroad and in the United States, it has become necessary to call immediately for 25,000 student nurses for training in American hospitals.

This call for women between the ages of 19 and 35 today was issued jointly by Surgeon General W. C. Gorgas of the United States army; Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States public health service; H. P. Davison, chairman war council, American Red Cross; Dr. Franklin Martin, chairman, general medical board, council national defense, and Anna Howard Shaw, chairman women's committee, council national defense.

The formal appeal says in part: "Acting on the urgency of the need, the state division of the woman's committee of the council of national defense, are requested through their local units to enroll 25,000 women needed. We ask the women of America to support us in our further effort not to lower American hospital standards, and to give us the practical assurance of their support by going to the nearest recruiting station established by the women's committee of the council of national defense on or after July 29, and enrolling in the United States nurse reserve."

VISCOUNT RHONDDA DIED THIS MORNING

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, July 3.—Viscount Rhondda (David Alfred Thomas), the British food controller, died this morning at 9 o'clock. Since the recent operations for dispersion of the food consequent to a severe attack of pleurisy, Lord Rhondda had weakened gradually. There were few rallies and the bulletins from his bedside in the last few days had held out little hope for his recovery. Yesterday announcement recorded that the patient had lost strength and that his heart showed signs of failing to respond to treatment.

DURING THE PAST MONTH 276,373 OF OUR BOYS HAVE LANDED ON THE SHORES OF FRANCE

Record Has Never Been Paralleled in History, is Statement of Army Officials, a Loss of Only 291 Men Having Occurred Through the Activity of German Submarines—Adequate Supplies and Equipment Have Gone Overseas from United States to Supply Our Vast Army, Which is Being Rushed by the Hundreds of Thousands to the Aid of the Allies.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, July 3.—Knowledge that more than one million United States troops are now in France, promised to add to America's celebration of the Fourth of July tomorrow. President Wilson in making public a letter from Secretary Baker made known the fact that 1,019,115 American troops had left for overseas service on July 1.

Despite activity of German submarines, troops sailings have increased steadily from 1,718 men in May, 1917, when the vanguard of America's contribution to the forces of democracy left the home shores, until last month 276,372 men were sent away. The total, substantially enough for thirty divisions, have reached the shores of France with a total loss at sea because of submarines of only 291 men, a record which army officials declare has never been paralleled in history. Casualties to date, including those lost at sea and those which have been returned, are placed at 8,165 men by Secretary Baker, leaving more than one million men to face the Germans in their threatened crucial offensive operation of the war.

Back of the million men in France, according to recent statements by Provost Marshal General Crowder, stand another million now in training, and according to the same authority still another million will have entered military life by the end of the present month.

Of the total troops in France, only 14,644, Secretary Baker's letter discloses for the first time, are Marines, but of this number, only about half a division, have been regiments, which at Chateau-Thierry have not only stopped the German advance on Paris, but twice have advanced their lines, and yesterday successfully withstood a most determined German attack.

Troop movements are now six months ahead of the original program, Secretary Baker pointed out.

65 KILLED IN AN EXPLOSION AT SYRACUSE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Syracuse, N. Y., July 3.—The bodies of 47 victims of the explosion of trinitrotoluol, which wrecked the plant of the Semet-Solway company at Split Rock, just west of this city, last night, had been received at the county morgue at noon today. He report from Split Rock said that 15 more bodies had been taken from the debris, bringing the total of dead to 62. Other bodies, it was said, may still be in the ruins.

The injured number at least 80. Most of them are in local hospitals, but many of them were removed to their homes in the rush to remove them quickly from the scene of the disaster.

Several of the injured are expected to die. At least half of the great munitions plant was wiped out by the fire and series of explosions which followed. At least 10 buildings were destroyed and the property damage will exceed $1,000,000.

The explosion occurred at 9:30 o'clock and shook the entire city. At least 15 buildings of the great munitions establishments were wiped out. A fire preceded the explosion by 45 minutes or more. When the fire broke out hundreds of the workmen left, but others remained to fight flames and many of these fell victims of the blast.

Six of the bodies were identified by their revolvers and keys as those of patrolmen. According to the statement of E. L. Pierce, vice president of the Semet-Solway company, the fire started in one of the towers of the T. N. T. plant, but the cause has not been ascertained.

While there were rumors of incendiarism and also that the fire was started by German spies, it was stated today that there are no facts to confirm this theory, although an investigation will be made.

Figures furnished by Semet-Solway officials gave the number of dead as 65. Forty-nine bodies, they stated, have been recovered.

There was prospect that the weather would be somewhat warmer than the unseasonable coolness that prevailed.

PROF. JOHNSON REPLIES TODAY TO EX-GOVERNOR

States Dry Cause Does Not Depend Upon Willis' Election to Governorship.

Granville, O., July 3.—Efforts of ex-Governor Willis to make it appear that the rate of the dry cause in Ohio depends upon his personal political success are vigorously refuted by Professor W. H. Johnson, who has given out a statement in reply to that issued by Willis last Saturday.

Professor Johnson declares there are thousands of dry voters who will under no circumstances vote for Mr. Willis, though large numbers of his party without hesitation ratification of the national prohibition amendment so direct.

Willis Saturday had charged interests with fostering the Johnson statement of the week before, in which the demand made by Willis three years ago that America cease selling munitions to British and French, was recalled. In his first disclosure, Professor Johnson had pointed out that the Willis demand would have insured an easy triumph for Germany. It was diametrically opposed to the stand of President Wilson.

Professor Johnson had said, "This declaration he repeats in his statement today. He says Willis, attaching a false significance to the word 'neutrality,' was 'loudly demanding that we should stop the sale of supplies to the allies and President Wilson was sternly refusing to do anything of the kind.'"

Professor Johnson declares the claim that in 1915 every body was supporting 'neutrality' of the Willis type is a "monstrous perversion of fact."

Professor Johnson says he did not charge Willis directly with being pro-German or disloyal.

"I am willing to allow that it was lack of insight which led him into his unfortunate statement of 1915," declares the professor, who goes on to say that if such "lack of insight" had directed the Washington administration, its effort would have been pro-German and disloyal to this country.

Today's statement by Professor Johnson follows:

"I have read the statement given out Saturday by Mr. Willis, only to find what might easily have been predicted. Being, of course, wholly unable to defend his specific utterances of 1915, he does not even quote them, but takes refuge in the assertion that he believed in 'neutrality' at that time, along with everybody else. Of course, he failed to define the particular brand of 'neutrality' to which he then committed himself.

"But, unfortunately for his present claims, he was not so careful to be vague in 1915 as he is now. The one outstanding feature in his kind of 'neutrality' as clearly stated in his telegram to the New York Times, was that it should be manifested by stopping the shipment of war supplies to the allies."

To call this 'neutrality' is simply to put the false look of respectable language and inevitable effect, would have brought speedy victory to the perpetrators of the brutal rape of Belgium and the then unparalleled crime of the Lusitania.

"To say that in 1915 everybody was for neutrality' of that type is a monstrous perversion of fact. I know of but one large class of whom such an assertion would be true, and that is the class whose leaders are now interned in the hundreds for the duration of the war in military prison, barracks at Fort Ogelthorpe."

It was this class which, through agencies utterly un-American in feeling and often basely criminal in method, loaded the mails and the wires with appeals to the administration and to congress to stop the sale of war supplies for the valiant armies which were suffering and dying in the trenches that justice and liberty and humanity might live.

"But every appeal for such a 'neutrality,' whether it came from the foreign office at Vienna, from a Viennese or an O'Leary in New York, from some branch of the German-American Alliance, from a morally misguided pacifist or from an aspiring politician, belated in his perception of the direction of the wind, President Wilson at once and irrevocably rejected. If he had not so done, if he had listened to this demand to close the American market for war supplies to England and France, he would stand today not as one of the greatest moral leaders of his time, but as the one man who had done most to make possible the success of the Hohenzollerns."

"As has been stated, I have not made the charge that Mr. Willis is or has been 'disloyal' or 'pro-German.' I am willing to allow that it was lack of insight which led him into his unfortunate statements of 1915. But it was a lack of insight which could have been controlled by the official course at Washington, could have had no other effect than that of active pro-Germanism and very real disloyalty to the fundamental traditions of our own land, and to the great, world-wide cause of human liberty, with which the great democracy of America was even then substantially one at heart, and on the side of which it was destined later to make itself an arm."

"I do not stand alone in the opinion that such a lack of insight, manifested months after the Lusitania crime had been committed by direct orders from Berlin, can hardly be accepted among qualifications for the governorship, no matter how much the opinion of the candidate in question may have been altered by later developments."

"I must emphatically reject the claim that the 'dry' cause is in any way bound up with the political aspirations of Mr. Willis. That cause has the ardent support of dozens of newspapers and of several hundreds of thousands of individual voters who will under no circumstances do.

DEPEW TELLS OF ATROCITIES OF HUN SOLDIERS

"If you can't wear a fighting uniform, at least wear a fighting spirit!" was the parting advice Gunner Alfred Depew, gave the vast audience which packed the High School auditorium Tuesday evening. At 7:30 o'clock every seat had been taken and many stood in the back and along the sides to hear the boy who had such terrifying experiences, fighting the Huns and who was incarcerated in the German prison camps.

The meeting was opened by the chairman of the local war committee, Mr. E. C. Wright, and the audience sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and Rev. R. E. Carnan gave the invocation and Mr. Wright then introduced Gunner Depew's manager, Mr. Hitchcock.

Mr. Hitchcock spoke of their work in connection with the war savings committee and paid a glowing tribute to former Ambassador Gerard, through whose intercession Depew was released from the German prisons.

"Our mission in part," said Mr. Hitchcock is the spreading of the proper kind of propaganda. There are three kinds of propaganda necessary, educational propaganda, American propaganda and Old Glory's propaganda. Today there are reverse kinds of propaganda, the kind that disrupted Russia and the kind that is very likely to throw us into a conflict with Mexico soon. It is every one's duty to combat that propaganda."

The speaker told of the card posted by Secretary of War Baker when he returned from the battlefields. It read: "Keep your eyes open, keep your ears open and keep your mouth shut." He admonished his audience if they knew of any troop movement, any plan of the war, or government to keep still and not gossip about it. According to him three days before the sinking of the Lusitania medals were struck in Germany and presented to the officers and men of the German submarine complimenting them on sinking the Lusitania. This shows they knew the time of sailing, cargo, where she would be, and when.

When Gerard forced an interview with the Kaiser, the latter told the former, to "remember this is not America's war and she had better keep out of it. I have 500,000 reservists in America who will rise to arms as needed." Gerard's reply was: "I know you may have the reservists but remember we have 500,000 and one lamp posts to hang them to."

He then told of Gunner Depew, who was born in Pittsburgh of French parentage. At the age of 12 he went to sea on a whaling vessel. He afterwards enlisted in the American Merchant Marines for coast and foreign service and has visited every country and speaks six different languages. He had a long experience in Uncle Sam's navy and after enlisting as a second class fireman arose to a c. p. c. or captain of the 14th gun turret.

He was honorably discharged before the war broke out, signed on another sea voyage, went to France to visit his grandmother and joined the French-foreign legion, or as they are known, the "French Blue Devils." He fought at Dixmude, Belgium, Verdun, Eppe, He made twelve trips to the Dardanelles, fought through the Dardanelle campaign, was wounded eight times, gassed and torpedoed. He has a bayonet wound through his right side, half of his intestines are gone, his breast is lacerated by barbed wire, when he was thrown over a fence by a German spy, his sight is gone in the left eye, from a defective shell in the 14th gun. Has a bayonet wound in his right arm, which never had medical attention, and a scar on the forehead where he was struck by a sentry.

It was after being released from a French hospital with his discharge that he was torpedoed and taken prisoner.

Depew is young and of attractive personality, and keenly interested in arousing the people to a sense of their duty and an appreciation of what the boys from this country are doing for them, and what they are undergoing.

Depew told his history, how he enlisted and what actuated him. He told of reaching France after signing up on a boat called the "Old Virginia." He visited his grandmother in France and learned that his brother had been killed with 163 pieces of shrapnel in his body.

He told of enlisting in France with the French Foreign Legion, which is supposed to be made up of soldiers of fortune and previous to this war they were usually stationed in Morocco as they were considered to be outlaws and convicts. In this legion were 1,400 Americans, and of that number 1,200 have received the croix de guerre, with which Depew is decorated.

He told how the Germans would not fight alone, but always go over in mass formations, and their officers are always behind them, never leading. How when they get in a tight place they throw up their hands and call mercy kamrade. The gunners explained they all had wives and nine children.

He told of the wounding of a German officer who was cared for in a Belgian hospital. He owed his life to the care of the nurse, and later she shook hands with her patients including the German, who grabbed both wrists and broke them. He advised Americans not to be too lenient with Germans for out of his regiment only six men are alive today. They were in Belgium by a group of supposedly Flemish-Belgians but in reality Germans who had been placed there before the war was declared.

He spoke of the "clean fighting" of the Turks and the horrible atrocities

He told of enlisting in France with the French Foreign Legion, which is supposed to be made up of soldiers of fortune and previous to this war they were usually stationed in Morocco as they were considered to be outlaws and convicts. In this legion were 1,400 Americans, and of that number 1,200 have received the croix de guerre, with which Depew is decorated.

He told how the Germans would not fight alone, but always go over in mass formations, and their officers are always behind them, never leading. How when they get in a tight place they throw up their hands and call mercy kamrade. The gunners explained they all had wives and nine children.

He told of the wounding of a German officer who was cared for in a Belgian hospital. He owed his life to the care of the nurse, and later she shook hands with her patients including the German, who grabbed both wrists and broke them. He advised Americans not to be too lenient with Germans for out of his regiment only six men are alive today. They were in Belgium by a group of supposedly Flemish-Belgians but in reality Germans who had been placed there before the war was declared.

He spoke of the "clean fighting" of the Turks and the horrible atrocities

of the German. His companion, an American named Murray, was doing sentry duty on the dock during the Dardanelles fight, and was found the next morning crucified with bayonets—one through each foot, one through the stomach, one through the left hand, and the right hand was cut off.

He scored the slackers, asking the men in the audience why they were not fighting. "In France a man of fighting age can't go before a medical examiner and say 'I have bad eyes,' and asked to be exempted. If they do they are told not to worry, they will be sent up front so far they won't have any trouble seeing."

Depew was in three German prison camps, being taken there from the torpedoed ship, through Iceland in the dead of winter, the prisoners being clad only in their underclothing.

When they are fed they are given barley coffee in the morning, "shadow soup," or cabbage broth at noon, and a tenth of a loaf of bread in the evening. If they asked a question as Depew did he was bayoneted, and another time thrown over a barbed wire fence. He did not have a bath for three months and the "cottles" were on him so thick they ran up and down his shoestrings.

Ambassador Gerard visited the camp and learned of the Americans being stationed there. It was because of his efforts that he was released. But probably the most striking statement of the lecture was the fact that when Depew returned to America suffering with his wounds, he could not find a person in New York to pay his way to Chicago, and he was forced to "bum" his way. After reaching there he was forced to sleep in Grant park three nights before reaching Gerard at the Blackstone hotel.

He made a special plea for the people of this country to support the war activities, to give and give again, he said, the mind could not picture the horrors the boys were undergoing and what the Red Cross meant to them. He told his audience we were in for a long siege and to prepare themselves for a great shock, for the country would not realize until the maimed men were returning home.

In conclusion, he said, to at "least wear a fighting spirit if you don't wear a fighting uniform."

A collection was taken up for Gunner Depew as no admission was charged, and the amount secured was $122.32. Of this amount the gunner donated a fourth, or $31.33, to the Licking county war chest.

The Advocate purchased the right to publish Gunner Depew's complete story. It is a gripping narrative and is well-written. The first installment will appear in The Advocate next Saturday, July 6.

POSITIONS

Brenta and Plave and taken nearly 600 prisoners. Monte Grappa is the key position between the rivers and is east of and across the Brenta from the heights gained Saturday and Sunday. East of Asiago the Italians have repulsed Austrian attacks against their new positions and captured 100 prisoners, bringing their total captures since Saturday to more than 2700.

Important changes have been made in the Austro-Hungarian army command probably as a result of the grave repulse along the Plave. General Otto von Below, a German has been appointed to the supreme field command, while Field Marshal Arz von Straubenberg, chief of staff has been replaced by General Krauss.

German and Finnish troops are reported moving rapidly toward the Marmara coast where American, British and French forces are guarding allied supplies intended for Russia. The frontier has been crossed by the invaders and clashes have occurred with Russian troops guarding the Mufmansk railway. The Germans are said to have 50,000 soldiers in this region.

OUR COUNTRY'S BIRTHDAY.

The Fourth will be something more than a kid holiday this year. The heart will have gone out of the old time scene of racket and mischief. Some of us will think back to that fateful scene when this nation was born, when it asserted its right to an equal place in the world family.

The familiar old picture in the history book, of our patriot forefathers signing the Declaration of Independence, looks like a very stilted and conventional scene. It is hard to imagine that it thrilled with any human motion. Yet these men by that act were putting their heads in the hangman's noose.

They were defying the strongest military power of their day, and with a handful of raw soldiers. It was an audacious proposition. The fortunes of time have made us now the ally of that power. But the American spirit of liberty has so far penetrated Western nations of Europe, that our allies go into battle in the same old faith of democracy that inspired the Revolutionary forefathers.

There was great stuff in the blood of the old patriots of '76. They would rather risk their necks than stand for acts of injustice. That temper has persisted to the present day. It has drawn to our shores millions of immigrants who shared the same feeling of revolt from tyranny, and who are fitting heirs of the patriotic legacy.

Blood will tell. The sons of the forefathers will be patriots too. The sons of men who came to this country to escape tyranny will not weakly bow the knee to the autocrat. If a handful of the fathers dared defy the old country in the days of weakness, the sons will never hesitate to defy kings and empires in these days of our strength.

AN OLIVE BRANCH.

President Wilson has done the graceful thing in a friendly move to eliminate partisanship in the Michigan senatorial election. In recommending that Democrats in Michigan turn in and elect Henry Ford, a Republican, as United States Senator, he has shown his willingness to ignore political lines.

The scoffers will of course remark that Michigan is a strong Republican state, and that the President was giving up nothing when he proposed to admit a Republican from that quarter. Yet Mr. Hughes secured but 52 per cent of the Presidential vote of Michigan in 1916, while Mr. Wilson had 44.

That is a fairly narrow margin, and gives a fighting chance to a strong Democrat. Many partisans would not be willing to abandon that fighting chance. Mr. Wilson had the patriotism to wish to eliminate politics as far as he could, and unite public sentiment in the one cause of winning the war.

Also that suggestion of Mr. Wilson's contravenes the theory that he is disposed to rule the men of big business out of national councils. The United States has produced very few men as successful as a money maker as Mr. Ford. That Mr. Wilson is not hostile to the business community is indicated by his friendship for this captain of industry, who can be depended upon to give capital and business interests equal treatment.

This example could well be followed in a great many congressional districts, only it should not be all on one side. Many Democrats will cheerfully support Republicans now in office who are backing the President in the war. It is up to the Republicans to reciprocate.

POWDER WASTED.

(Philadelphia Record.) "Don't fire, lads," said "Old Put" or Warren, or whoever that fine patriot was at Bunker Hill, "until you see the whites of their eyes." And that injunction should serve for the misguided hurrah-boys on this Fourth of July. But even a legal injunction may not avail to check some of them, though something of that sort should be leveled at them. Powder is too precious a commodity to be wasted in foolish fireworks and blank cartridges. All of it should be saved for that enemy whose eyes have no whites, being bloodshot with impotent rage and wild fury.

Year after year we have had orders issued from City Hall which were expected to be more honored in the breach than in the quiet observance. This year those were supposed to have more purposeful ponderance than formerly, but unfortunately the official who put them forth has not always been taken seriously, and the sporadic popping of premature squibs in various parts of the town these mornings gives promise of an increased activity approaching the character of drumfire by the eve of the Fourth. It should not be; and if the police will not move to stop it, the decent citizenry should at least do what they can to frown down the offenders.

Fathers—and mothers—families may help by notifying their Johnnies and Susies that the Fourth of July spending money doled out to them is not to be converted into anything more explosive than ice cream cones or lollipops. The older potential law-breakers it will be hard to reach, perhaps, and these are the most harmful disturbers. Their passion runs to cannon-crackers and to revolvers in which the cartridges are not always blank. They are the feeders of hospitals and the padders of casualty lists. Surely, on this Fourth of July, when General Pershing's casualty reports, though regrettably long, are still prophetic of eventual good to the country, it would be a shame if even a single death in this country should be attributed to an accident born of foolishness.

Let us have the decorous quiet of this Cradle of Liberty unbroken by any more unseemly sounds than an occasional and unavoidable laps in grammar on the part of a neighborhood orator, or a bum note by some member in the appointed places and times, but let the great majority of the citizens be content to be well-behaved onlookers and auditors, and the town will be the better and its inhabitants the happier for it.

RUSSIAN SITUATION.

(Ohio State Journal.) We searched the news columns for something to say about Russia, but the fact is there is no head or tail to the dispatches from that country. After reading columns and columns of stuff we were unable to tell which side we were on. The intelligence is desperately mixed. That poor country is in a horrid mess and there is no way of telling how it will escape. Germany is busy trying to enslave it in every way, and the divisions of public sentiment do not seem to stand in her way. This country would like to help her, but does not know exactly how to take a hold. It seems to be afraid of something. It shouldn't be. It is impossible to make matters worse. If it joins with Japan it will only be adding another ally in the war against the Hun. We need Japan just now. We need it for Russia's sake. It is going to be a longer war than we can count on if Russia becomes a subordinate part of the German empire. We know what we would do if we were the Goddess of Liberty—we would turn the "yellow peril" on the Hun.

WHAT'S YOUR ANSWER?

Of all days in the year—July 4th—tomorrow—we should all cut loose and feel proud of our country.

We tell of this day's glorious history, of all it has meant to humanity, of the ideals of the forefathers who signed the Declaration of Independence and fought for its principles.

We boast how men died that we all might be free; how we have gained in power and wealth, and yet held our standards of freedom and equality on high.

And we have a right to be proud! Never any other country held so wide the gates of opportunity; never any other country exalted so the rights of man.

NOW WE ARE CHALLENGED!

Autocracy has banded together for world domination; for the end of freedom; for the rule of the mailed fist. Its success means the death of all upon which we have built our republic; the complete denial of the doctrines of the Declaration of Independence; an abject subordination of the individual before men born to the purple.

WILL WE STAND FOR IT?

A million men in France roar "No!" Twice that number in training echo back a thunderous "NO!" The mighty chorus of American citizenship sends the ringing defiance around the world, bringing heart to the war-weary millions of freemen in the struggle.

MEANWHILE YOU BUY YOUR SHARE OF WAR SAVINGS STAMPS!

Having proclaimed our stand, LET'S MAKE IT COUNT! Behind every man who fights we must marshal every assisting force. Ships, guns, munitions, food, supplies—in such a volume as only the United States of America can furnish!

IT CALLS FOR OUR MONEY!

The dollars form the great bulwark behind the fighters. Their might is second only to the man power. You American people, who cannot fight, must supply that money!

AND THE WAY IS OPEN TO US ALL!

Yes, the government has provided the channel for ALL OF US TO HELP in War Savings Stamps.

And the money will come back to us—back with interest; to educate our children, to establish our business, to care for our old age.

There are no disadvantages—the money is net—no taxes; the security is the best in the world; they may be converted into money in case of urgent need, and they are registered against loss.

The government urgently needs this money. Its great volume of $2,000,000,000 will help wonderfully in making the world safe for YOUR democracy. Our share in Licking county has been purchased to date. We here in Licking county have bought $618,000 worth but the work is only half done and the year is half gone.

So, with every reason for it, let's make this Fourth of July memorable forever as the day when we all awakened to the great responsibilities of this war and took upon ourselves our share in its promotion, by renewing our allegiance to the Stars and Stripes, and then expressing that loyalty by an enormous purchase of the government's best security—War Savings Stamps.

Y. M. C. A. SECY. UNDER SHELL FIRE FROM ENEMY'S GUNS

The Y. M. C. A. man's job on the western front is no easy one. Under German shell fire much of the time, he is called upon constantly to sacrifice his comfort and safety for the sake of carrying his peculiar ministry to the boys along the front line of battle.

But the job of dogging German shells appeals to many red-blooded American men who are now in the service of the Y. M. C. A. overseas. More than 2,000 of them are now doing their part to sustain the morale of the American troops in the trenches of France. One of these—

Sanford L. Porter, of California—has written a vivid word picture of his life as a Y. M. C. A. worker and says he enjoys it.

"For weeks I have been under German shell fire (almost hell fire) on the American front," says Mr. Porter. "My Y. M. C. A. is between second and third line trenches. Some days we get no shells, but most of the time they whistle over me day and night. We are ordered to carry gas masks all of the time indoors and out. Cannot step out without the steel helmet on the head. The English mask must be carried always in the alert position, as one can get it on the face before he breathes, in case of gas alarm. The second mask is carried so that if a bullet goes through No. 1 the other is available at once. The helmet protects from bursting shrapnel, which often falls, especially from their air battles. Some times the sentry awakens me four or five times in a single night for a gas alarm. That gas is terrible."

"My little town has been captured twice by the Germans (before I came), and each time regained by the French. 'The ground is too level where we are for dugouts so our 'Y' is a grand old residence. Of course, we have small bombproof dugouts for safety. Only a few feet from my door is one used by two officers besides myself and assistant in case of fierce bombardment. We stayed in it one night."

"I am in constant danger, but somehow one hardly feels that way at the time. One afternoon last week nineteen high explosive German shells struck directly in front of the Y. M. C. A. They were '165s', and believe me, they tear some hole in the ground."

"Our movements are in the nights mostly. If one goes on the street in the daytime he is obliged to walk close to the side of the buildings, as planes are out for photographs, etc. so much. The aviators are having battles overhead often. Some people think a Y. M. C. A. secretary's job is a snap! Let such follow me for a week and I'll guarantee they'll be taking nerve tonics for a month afterward."

Moore Sunday school class also presented Mrs. Hazlett with a comfort which they had made.

PATRIOTIC WEEK TO BE OBSERVED BY THE PYTHIANS

Supreme Chancellor John J. Brown of the Knights of Pythias, a short time ago, issued a proclamation designating the week of July 1-6 as "Pythian Patriotic Week," and calling upon all lodges of this great order in the United States to observe the same. It was also suggested that the event could be celebrated in any way acceptable to the local knights, either by a parade, picnic, or program in the castle hall. The joint committee of the two local lodges of Pythians decided to conform to the wishes of the supreme officers and will, therefore, give a patriotic program in their hall on East Main street next Friday evening, July 5, beginning at 8 o'clock.

It is a well-known fact that the Knights of Pythias lodge is considered strongly patriotic in every sense of the word. It was one of the first organizations in the country to introduce in its order of business the "salute to the flag." Thousands of its members have joined the colors and many other thousands hold themselves in readiness to do likewise when the call comes. The main object of this celebration is to keep our patriotism at top-notch and imbue others with the same spirit that we all may assist in "keeping the home fires burning."

The knights are ready and willing at all times to do anything in their power to keep "Old Glory" at the top. At the present time about 80 members of the two local bodies are in the service of their country. Their dues are kept paid up by the lodge to which they belong and will continue to be done until the close of the war. In addition, a mammoth Pythian war relief fund is being raised throughout the supreme domain to be used in caring for soldier members and their dependents.

The program next Friday evening is open to the general public and no admission will be charged. If you are not strictly pro-American your presence is not desired. The program as arranged by the committee follows:

Did You Know
That a certain amount of fat in the diet is indispensable? According to Mr. Hoover, an increase in tuberculosis manifested itself among the Belgian children when the fat ration was reduced too low. A more striking effect of a restricted fat ration is afforded in what has become known in Germany as "Kriegsodem." This is a peculiar disease which appears to have become widespread in Germany and which, according to the scientists over there, is distinctly a nutritional disorder. The present German ration provides but little over 30 grams of fat, while the consumption of fat by the American people is over 150 grams per person per day. At one time it was thought that fat and carbohydrate, both being fuel foods, could be substituted one for the other, merely making the appropriate allowance as based on the caloric value of the food. This is now known not to be the case.

Suspicious.
The professor regarded, with an eye of suspicion, the small, yellow cube the waiter had brought him. "I take thee," he murmured, "for butter—or worse."—Boston Transcript.

"Riches have wings," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes, especially ostriches!" added the Simple Mug, thinking of the bill for his wife's new hat.

Shad Easily Taken.

The habits of the shad lead themselves admirably to the extermination of the fish. They approach the shores in immense schools, actually crowding one another in their efforts to reach the head of the fresh-water streams, where the spawn is deposited. Fishermen learned quickly how to intercept the run by nets in the bays and in the broad mouths of rivers, and the marketable shad are now nearly all caught in this way.

BUCKEYE BAND TO PARTICIPATE IN THE BIG PARADE

Through an oversight in the arranging and announcement of the big parade for tomorrow the Buckeye band was inadvertently omitted.
The band, under the leadership of Robert Doid, will be one of the big features of the parade.

Fulcrum Most Important.
Levers are of little use without something to work on. You can't get work done without the fulcrum. Its relation to the task and the lever is vital. Without a fulcrum with properly adjusted height and distance from the object to be moved all the levers in the world will be of little use. But put it in the right place and the greatest tasks can be done with ease.
Weights that no one would think of lifting are moved with scarcely any effort. If the task is too big wise men change the fulcrum. That is, they move the thing on which the lever works nearer the object to be moved.
Or it may be they lower the fulcrum a little so as to move the object by ensler stages. This is the vital point.
When properly related to the task a child on the long end of the lever can do the work. Such is the importance of having the fulcrum right.—Exchange.

Health is wealth; but you can't make the doctor believe it.

INDIAN DOCTOR IS Y. W. C. A. WORKER

Dr. Gurabai Karmarkar.

educator and medical doctor, is an active Y. W. C. A. worker in the orient. She recently attended the first annual meeting of the war work council of the association which was practices in Bombay, India, specializing in work with women and children. She works with the Congregational mission board.

Bargains For Busy Men At The Great Western Clothing Co.

In these strenuous times it behooves the busy man to save both time and money in purchasing his clothing. He cannot spare the time to hunt around to learn where he can get the best goods for the least money.
He is anxious to suit himself at the least possible expenditure of time and money. Hence this word to him:
You need clothing now. Summer goods are seasonable as the hot weather is just beginning. You can buy what you want at right prices at The Great Western Clothing Company. The latest designs can be found here. Styles and sizes to suit.

It is well also, at this time, to consider your needs for fall and winter clothing. Remember, the prices for those goods are going up by leaps and bounds. However, we bought when the market was right, and can serve you to your satisfaction with prices. Do not delay, however, as when the present stock is gone the prices will go higher. Now is the real time to purchase your goods. The store that saves you money.

aim of those in charge to unite with the foreigners of the city in making

MILES that bring SMILES

There's a longer time between tank fillings when you use Red Crown.

A gallon of this good gasoline spreads itself over a greater distance—gives you more mileage—more satisfaction per mile.

Wherever you are you can get Red Crown; wherever you get it you find it's the same power-full fuel—all gas.

POLARINE

lubricates so perfectly that the only thing you need to remember is not to forget to get it.

NEW RECORDS FOR YOUR TALKING MACHINE

Are you planning to follow the advice of the phonograph makers and make this "A Vacation with Music?"
A splendid idea—this taking the phonograph along to the mountains or the shore—one that more of us should adopt.

But whether you pack up and go a-gypsying or enjoy your music at home on the cool and shady front porch, you will want to have some of the July Records with Columbia has just put in the dealer's hands. It is a stellar aggregation—so brilliant with top-notchers. Included in the group are records by the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, Joseph Hofmann, Stracciari, the New York Philharmonic, Al Jolson, snappy, up-to-date dance tunes by a group of the best known dance orchestras, and no less than 15 popular song hits of the day.

It is to be hoped that this initial Columbia Record of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra is but the first of many that are to come. The selection is most happy being none other than "Faust." It is hardly necessary to attempt to describe it—to mention the name of the famous organization of musicians is sufficient to convey the idea of perfection.

PURITY

Frank Hawke, Frank Colville, Fred Kudwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Evans spent the day with the former's daughter, Miss Hawke.

week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Jesse Hawke.

to hear him.

IF YOUR TIME IS VALUABLE

You should use our checking account service, paying all bills by check instead of going in person with the money.

It is far safer, too, to pay by check instead of actual cash, and you know just where you stand after every transaction.

Every business man, farmer and individual who receives and pays out money should save time and money by using Franklin National checking account service.
